SECTION A –READING COMPREHENSION

Read the paragraph below given and answer the following questions:- 5 Marks

Every Sunday policeman James had breakfast with his sister, Mrs. Bush. He loved the buns baked by his sister. She mixed a lot of nuts and raisins in them and sprinkled sugar crystals on top of them. After baking, she kept them on the window sill to cool. Mr. George lived in a small cottage next to Mrs. Bush. He loved to eat freshly baked buns. Every Sunday, he got the lovely smell of the freshly baked buns. One Sunday, he quickly jumped over the hedge and took four of her buns. Policeman James arrived at 9 o'clock and Mrs. Bush made tea for him. Then she went to fetch the plate of buns. She was shocked to see four of her buns missing and decided to catch the thief. The next Sunday, she put strong magic glue on eight of her buns. The glue sparkled like sugar. She kept the buns on the window sill. Mr. George jumped over the hedge, and took two of the buns. As he went back to his cottage he took out a plate but to his horror, the buns stuck to his hand. He could not put them on the plate. Mrs. Bush was watching all that. She now knew who was stealing her buns. Mr. George was ashamed of his act. He apologized to her. She smiled and said, "It happens Mr. George."
